OPICA Extends its Services in the Community

For Bea V., all it took was one fall in her Westchester home. Fortunately Bea incurred no significant injuries but she lost confidence in herself to get around without help. And Bea is not alone. One out of three older adults falls each year. And many who fall, even if they are not injured, develop a fear of falling. A fear that may cause them to limit their activities, which leads to reduced mobility and loss of physical fitness, and in turn increases their actual risk of falling.

OPICA is committed to providing educational programs and resources to benefit the older adult community. Thanks to funding from the Max Factor Family Foundation and Kaiser Permanente West Los Angeles, OPICA offers two classes to encourage physical activity and overall health: A Matter of Balance and Walk with Ease.

A Matter of Balance, initially developed with funding from the national Institute on Aging is now replicated throughout the country. An evidence-based health program for older adults, it uses cognitive-behavior techniques designed to reduce the fear of falling, stop the fear of falling cycle, and improve the activity level for older adults. Through lecture, discussion and exercise, participants are encouraged to identify and become more aware of their fears.

Walk with Ease is a multi-component program that includes walking, health education, stretching and strengthening exercises, and motivational strategies. Initially designed for

“ I look forward to the weekly class, you exercise without feeling like you’re exercising. Activities I can do sitting or standing”

COMING SOON:
10th Annual Forget-Me-Not Luncheon – June 4, 2015
Dear Friends of OPICA,

We begin the New Year with confidence knowing we have met the fiscal challenge that we faced two years ago when OPICA and other senior care agencies lost funding from the City of Los Angeles. Thanks to your rallying of support OPICA has rebounded and we look to the future with optimism, eager to take OPICA to the next level.

Inspired by our vision to generate the next evolution of understanding, care, and engagement for those facing cognitive impairment; firm in our belief that our members with fading memories can continue to find meaning in their lives and discover new avenues to explore, we are excited to embark on our journey to meet the ambitious goals of our newly approved 3-year strategic plan.

By achieving our goals, OPICA will:

• Be the hub of a nationally recognized community of care to improve the lives of persons facing cognitive impairment. OPICA will actively pursue and develop collaborative relationships with community organizations and service providers for the purpose of education and training, sharing of best practices, program development, research, advocacy, information gathering, and resource referral.

• Strengthen our ability to meet the individual needs of each family and our ability to provide a comforting, safe environment for our members by optimizing our current space and increasing our current high ratio of program staff to members.

• Advance the standards of a Best Place to Work, encourage and provide professional development opportunities and improve compensation for our skilled and dedicated staff.

We appreciate your support and value your partnership, essential if we are to achieve these overarching goals. We look forward to sharing progress, successes and challenges along the way on this important journey.

Sincerely,

Mary Baker                                         Mary Michlovich

OPICA is a place where adults coping with memory loss, dementia and related disorders are accepted and welcomed. While families and friends who come to us for help may be in crisis and not know where to turn, OPICA is here to provide support, guidance and hope.

Our mission is to enable adults facing memory disorders to continue to live at home by:

• Provide compassionate and stimulating day programs;

• Support family caregivers through counseling and respite;

• Increasing community understanding of memory disorders through education, resource referral, and professional training.
SAVE THE DATE – OPICA’s 10TH ANNUAL FORGET-ME-NOT LUNCHEON

OPICA is extremely proud and excited to honor two very special people who have made significant contributions to improve the lives of individuals and their families coping with memory loss at OPICA’s 10th Annual Forget-Me-Not Luncheon to be held on Thursday, June 4, 2015 at the Four Seasons Hotel.

For more information and/or sponsorship opportunities, contact Stacey Barrett at (310) 478-0226 or stacey@opica.org.

A SPECIAL 100TH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

On January 16th the OPICA family was proud to celebrate member Les Martinson’s 100th birthday.

Before he was a member of OPICA, Les was a longtime member of the Television Academy. A famed television and movie director, Les is most famous for directing Batman (1966), The Bionic Woman (1976) and P.T. 109 (1963).

“I love that he has his friends at OPICA in his life,” expresses his wife, Connie, who attends an OPICA support group.

MEMBER PROFILE

Ken Rosenfeld was born on April 3, 1940 in Los Angeles. Ken knew from an early age what his career path would be and his father was his biggest motivator. After graduating Fairfax High School he attended the pre-pharmaceutical program at UCLA where his love for his trumpet and music led him to play in UCLA’s marching band. On completing the program Ken hung his Bruins cap up and put on a Trojan one. He completed USC’s pharmacy program in 1964. In 1973 he and a partner opened Santa Monica Medical Plaza Pharmacy where they were in business for the next 11 years. Ken continued to work as a pharmacist for retail pharmacies like Thrifty and Sav-On until he retired in 2006. Over the years he has enjoyed hobbies such as coin and stamp collecting as well as playing poker. As of 2012 Ken has made OPICA part of his life. Some of his favorite activities include “Friendship Group” and “Art with Abby”. He shares that, “It’s an enjoyable place to be.”

DID YOU KNOW...

The number of Americans with Alzheimer’s disease and other dementias will escalate rapidly in coming years as the baby boom generation ages. By 2050, the number of people age 65 and older with Alzheimer’s disease may nearly triple, from 5 million to as many as 16 million, barring the development of medical breakthroughs to prevent, slow or stop the disease.
NEW WAYS YOU CAN SUPPORT OPICA

Add a leaf to OPICAS’s Tree

OPICA’s logo, our iconic tree, was created to symbolize the shelter we provide to individuals and families coping with dementia. For over 35 years, OPICA’s sheltering tree offers connection, respite, guidance, and support for those making this difficult journey.

We invite you to make a gift by sending a tribute today to ensure the OPICA tree continues to grow, expanding its reach to provide shelter to the growing number of people who seek our help.

Send a tribute to someone in their honor, or in memory of someone they loved and lost. Acknowledge a special occasion such as an anniversary or birthday.

With your tribute gift, a leaf with your personal message will be added to OPICA’s tree on the north wall of the main room, visible to everyone as they enter the room. A special tribute card will be sent to the person you honored in acknowledgment of your gift.

Please see the enclosed envelope to order your leaf today or contact Yesenia Gonzalez at (310)478-0226 or yesenia@opica.org.

Notecards featuring original artwork by OPICA Members

We are proud to introduce our newly designed note cards featuring original artwork created by OPICA Members. With a minimum donation of $25, you can order a set of four beautiful cards and each one includes a photograph and brief biography of the artist on the back. These attractive cards can be sent as a thank you notes, or in place of a traditional greeting card. Every time you send a card, you help bring awareness to the individuals coping with cognitive impairment.

For more information, please contact Yesenia Gonzalez at (310)478-0226 or yesenia@opica.org.

Support OPICA Today and Into the Future

There are many different ways to support OPICA, but a legacy gift will allow future generations of seniors to receive the same exceptional care provided to our members today. When you designate OPICA as a beneficiary of your estate, your enduring legacy honors yourself and your family. Your single action has the power to change lives.

For more information about Planned Giving, contact Stacey Barrett (310) 478-0226 or Stacey@opica.org.
A lzheimer’s is an incurable, progressive neurologic illness. A person with dementia may experience delusions, hallucinations, and impulsivity. Recognizing that Alzheimer’s disease can be challenging for the family caregivers helping their love one cope with the disease, OPICA was proud to host UCLA’s Boot Camp for Caregivers on Saturday, January 24, 2015.

The well attended Boot Camp comprised a daylong program with workshops covering topics including home safety, eating problems, recreation activities for the memory-impaired, coping with caregiver stress, and burnout. OPICA staff Emily Carvill, Director of the Adult Day Program and Associate Director of the Counseling Center, Sara Kaye, Family Services Director and Carol Hahn, RN presented workshops on coping with caregiver stress and burnout and shared adult care options. OPICA also provided a full day of activities for caregivers’ loved ones, providing them much needed respite so they could participate and enjoy the day.

OPICA is proud to be a partner with UCLA’s division of Geriatrics in a variety of programs including Time Out, and Alzheimer’s and Dementia Care (ADC) voucher system.

OPICA IS A PROUD RECIPIENT OF TAPROOT’S SEPTEMBER 2014 SERVICE GRANT.

With offices in Chicago, Los Angeles, New York City, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C., the Taproot Foundation drives social change by leading, mobilizing, and engaging professionals in pro bono service, utilizing their tools and services to strengthen nonprofits.

Selected from a competitive pool of high potential nonprofits, OPICA was awarded a Service Grant for Key Messaging and Branding Strategy. In addition to basic and regional criteria, grants are awarded to organizations with healthy finances, a strong mission and program, stable staff and proven results.

The grant will be delivered pro bono by a team of five business professionals who will volunteer their time and expertise to help OPICA advance its mission. Additional organizations receiving a 2014 Service Grant include Big Brothers Big Sisters of Greater Los Angeles and Habitat for Humanity for Greater Los Angeles.

people with arthritis, Walk with Ease is beneficial for anyone who would like to begin a regular walking program.

Carol Hahn, RN and certified instructor for both classes, motivates participants to maintain routine exercise in a fun and accepting environment. In addition to the social support from the group that breaks the downward spiral of fear, the cohesiveness of the group leads to sharing ideas, creating new friendships, and inspiring each other to succeed. Carol reports that 80 to 90% of participants live alone and have expressed feeling valued and they appreciate the opportunity to learn from one another.

For older adults living alone, simply moving from the couch to a table can be challenging. After taking the class, Bea is happy to report that she doesn’t worry as much. “I’m aware of my surroundings and I feel very confident.”
